

OUR JAKE SMASHES AUSSIES

SPORT >> P28

LATEST NEWS FROM OUR SCHOOLS

STARTS >> P15

ARTISTS
LIGHTING UP
DARWIN FESTIVAL

>> SUN NEWSPAPERS

NT News

YOUR VOICE IN THE TERRITORY

Tuesday, August 15, 2017

ntnews.com.au

$1.60 Includes GST

A saltie chows down on a wild pig at Yellow Water in Kakadu
Picture: AMY PIERCE

Rioli urging public to check health

POLITICIANS in the Top End are being encouraged to test and measure their health through Menzies' HealthLAB activities as part of National Science Week this year.

NT Thunder captain Shannon Rioli joins the Menzies School of Health Research to call on the general public to get on board the initiative too.

Three years since its first visit to Parliament House, HealthLAB will again allow politicians to measure their health.

Mr Rioli said test showed how lifestyle choices affected a person's future health. "The Menzies HealthLAB has already given many people the confidence to look after their health and make positive lifestyle changes," he said.

Visit www.menzies.edu.au/HealthLAB for more information.